

THE YEAR WAS 1972. IT WAS A LEAP YEAR ...

Marlon Brando was “going to make him an offer he can’t refuse” as The Godfather premiered. Jane Fonda was in North Vietnam posing for photos with the troops. M*A*S*H began its run on CBS. And a band out of Sweden was using the initials of their first names to form one of the most influential bands of all time.

It was the beginning of Watergate.

Ray Tomlinson invented internet-based email, Bounce dryer sheets were introduced alongside Dawn dish soap and Atari released the arcade version of Pong.

The Apollo 17 crew took the famous “Blue Marble” photograph of the earth from space.

Doritos introduced nacho cheese flavoured chips. And whenever a kid sat down to eat a bowl of cereal, mom and dad exclaimed “Hey, Mikey! He likes it!”

The Canadian national men’s hockey team defeated the Soviet national ice hockey team in Game 8 of the Summit Series 6–5, to win the series 4–3–1.

Lester B. Pearson, Harry S. Truman, J. Edgar Hoover and Jackie Robinson all passed away. Shaquille O’Neal, Martin Brodeur, Ben Affleck, Cameron Diaz, Idris Elba and Eminem were all born.

Closer to home ... a family-owned and operated security company was formed.

It’s hard to believe that 50 years have passed since Huronia Alarm & Fire Security Inc. began. Our family-owned and operated company has grown to a team of almost 100 people. We’ve spent 50 years providing high-quality products and services to our customers. It’s been 50 years of hard work, perseverance and dedication to the communities we call home.

We look forward to celebrating this milestone achievement with all of you throughout the year. We are also looking forward to the next 50 years.

And before anyone says it ... we know, we don’t look a day over 40.

~David P. Clark, President

HELP KEEP FIRE HYDRANTS CLEAR DURING SNOWY MONTHS

Our municipalities and Ontario's Office of the Fire Marshall are asking residents to help keep hydrants clear of snow build-up. In case of an emergency, emergency response personnel need to be able to locate and quickly access the fire hydrant without having to spend valuable seconds digging it out of a snowbank. Residents with hydrants located on or near their property are asked to clear a one metre/three feet space all around the hydrant and ensure a clear path to the street. It's best to do this as soon as possible after a snowfall to ensure that the area doesn't get hard-packed (if it melts and freezes again) which will make the snow much harder to clear as time goes on.

While you're out shovelling, don't forget to clear the snow from around your furnace and water heater exhausts as well. Those exhausts help to remove CO 2 from your home. If the exhaust can't escape due to snow blockage it could come back into the home and could potentially cause CO 2 poisoning.
